ICIC Summer School

The International School for future Information Professionals.

We are pleased to announce that the „ICIC Summer School 2010 for future Information Professionals“ will be open for registration shortly.

The ICIC organizers have a long tradition in organizing conferences for Information Professionals in the area of new trends in scientific and patent information.

The ICIC Summer School aims at introducing newcomers to the area of Professional Information work. Enterprises use many different tools to share and acquire information (e.g. traditional databases, intranet, web search engines), but often they do it in a very inefficient and cheap, but time consuming way.

This ICIC Summer School gives participants theoretical and practical knowledge of web, database engines and commercial offers for state of the art scientific and patent information products.

Target groups: future Patent Information Professionals from industry with less than 2 years experience. Future search experts from national patent offices, Universities, R+D Organizations and Intellectual Property workers are invited as well.

Venue: The Summer School will take place at the Hotel Savoyen in Vienna on 1 and 2 July 2010. Places are limited, so please register early to avoid disappointment. Registrations to attend will close on 20 June, if not already sold out.

Price: The registration fee is 499 € (plus 20% VAT) and includes 2 lunches, coffee breaks and a local dinner (Heurigen) in Vienna.

For more information and to register, please visit the Online Registration of ICIC Summer School 2010: <http://www.haxel.com/icic/summerschool/registration>

The programme includes an introduction about Information Professionals in Industry and an introduction about Information Retrieval. The second day is dedicated to leading international Information Vendors with an overview and “hands on” approach to innovative information tools for R&D, Science and Industry.

This two-day seminar will give future search professionals from industry unrivalled access to the know-how and expertise of different Information Professionals, including online access to different commercial information products.

Venue and Location

The 2010 ICIC Summer School will take place at the Hotel Savoyen

An impressive blend of tradition and modernity is reflected in the design of the Hotel Savoyen. Housed in the former building of the Austrian State Print, the hotel represents an architectural bridge from the past to the future.

This hotel is an extraordinary lifestyle product in the style of the 21st century. The former building of the Austrian State Print now plays home to the chic city-hopper, as well as the world-travelling businessman. The daylight-bathed atrium, with its lounge and bar, is the focal point of the hotel. It is from here that guests access our 309 comfortably appointed rooms and suites, as well as the Fitness & Vitality Area.
